

Sew a blanket shirt with Brian Manning

Through the ages the blanket has been a source of warmth and comfort. In this relaxed class folks will design and learn how to utilize that blanket to create a garment that will help keep them warm when the cold winds blow. Easy stitches will be taught and even how to wear a blanket as a simple match coat will be discussed as well. Some knowledge of sewing is helpful but not required. Needles, thread and scissors will be provided as well as a construction booklet will be available for a small fee of $10.00. Brian Manning will collect payment at the time of the workshop.

Sunday Morning November 13, 2016 - 9:00-12:00

If you wish to participate please bring your own blankets. They should measure at least 65" x 80". One blanket will work well for small to large sizes. Two or more blankets may be needed for XL or greater.

To register, indicate the number of people interested in the workshop box below the conference registration. Space is limited.
